“ We are so saddened by the loss of our dear, dear friend. We have only known her for three years but feel we knew her for her entire life. We are so thankful for the last few times we had dinner together and laughed together. We will miss going to have three way chili at Rusty Bucket, blowing the whistle at her as she crosses the bridge walking Molly and Kaylee, and coming over for Doug's famous margaritas. We had lots of good times and have lots of good memories. We miss you. They say heaven is a beautiful place. It just became more beautiful the morning Robin walked in. Our prayers go out to Robin, Andy, Robin's family, and Danny, Jennifer, Tommy, and Kevin. May she rest in peace. Till we meet again dear friend..till we meet again. In God's Love,
Doug and Eileen

“ We truly morn the loss of our dear friend Robin. She was one of the most understanding, positive, talented, yet modest person we've ever known, if even for such a short time. We are so sorry that she had to go through this this past year, but now she is in peace, without pain. George and I are thinking of you, Andy, and your (wonderful) children, who Robin unselfishly loved so much. Andy, we know how self sufficient you are (you have literally been a rock throughout this) yet if there is anything at all we can do, please let us know.

“ I don't know where to begin. My heart is broken and I can't describe the emptiness and sorrow that I feel. This world has lost one of the most amazing and special people I've ever met and my universe is forever changed.

Robin and I have not been lifelong friends but I'm certain that had our paths crossed when we were younger, we would surely have befriended one another. While we were different in many respects, we "got" one another and accepted/respected our differences. We could talk about anything and when not chatting about our daily goings on in Florida, we often shared tales of our younger years, when we were kids, as well as when we were raising children of our own. Conversation was always easy and enjoyable. I'll miss that so much.

There are so many adjectives that come to mind when I think of Robin - beautiful, kind, compassionate, friendly, athletic, brave, determined, and the list goes on and on. She was the embodiment of being a true friend and someone I could always count on. She was an anchor for me.

We learned to play tennis at the same time, and she became an incredibly supportive teammate. Even when I knew she was annoyed with my performance on the court, she offered kind words and encouragement. She was incredibly modest, always blaming tremendous shots on "luck", never skill. She loved the challenge of playing with better players and always thought she should play better than she did. Watching her on the court was always a treat - she moved with a quiet confidence that translated to poetry for me. (I also know that if she heard me say that last comment, she would roll her eyes - that was something she was VERY good at.) I will always think of Robin when I'm on the court - and am inspired by her to do my very best....and then some.

My heart goes out to Andy, Dan, Tom, Jen, Kevin, Robin's parents and in-laws - you had an incredible wife, mother, daughter and daughter-in-law. It should warm your hearts to know that she was special to so many people outside of your family.

"Many people will walk in and out of your life, but only true friends will leave footprints in your heart". Eleanor Roosevelt

Nora & Mike Walsh - October 03, 2016 at 11:50 AM

“ Andy, Danny, Jennifer, Tommy & Kevin (and all of Robin's family) - We are sorry beyond words for your loss. Robin was a sweet and beautiful person and while your pain and loss is unbearable please always hold onto how truly blessed you are to have loved her and had her love you so much. This must have been written about Robin:

"We cannot judge a biography by its length.
Nor by the number of pages in it.
We must judge it by the richness of its contents.
Sometimes those unfinished are among the most poignant.
We can not judge a song by its duration.
Nor by the number of its notes.
We must judge it by the way it touches and lifts our souls.
Sometimes those unfinished are among the most beautiful.
And when something has enriched your life.
And when its melody lingers on in your heart.
Is it unfinished?
Or is it endless?"

With all our love - Kyle & Cheryl

“ My husband and I had such fun with Robin on Trivia nights. She was one smart cookie and came up with many answers to save our team. She would sweetly and quietly suggest what the correct answer might be, and you can bet we all went with it. We will miss Robin and we will miss getting to know her better. “

Robin had many wonderful attributes, but one outstanding characteristic that stands out in my mind is that she never spoke badly about anyone and never made fun of anyone, she was so sweet and kind, a great virtue to have. There should be more people like her. The Jewel Lures will miss her at Trivia, she was a super player! Her smile could light up a room. Her husband and family meant so much to her. She was a good cook, too. I will never go on the tennis court again without thinking of her, (just wish I could play like her)!!

With Loving Memories, Nina Iraggi
