“ I met Barb when she first moved to Naples and was looking for a job. She worked for me and with me, side by side and we inspired each other! I have sooo many happy memories of time with Barb and they will remain with me always! We shared lunch in Barb's favorite Tea Room, tea at the Ritz, a hilarious trip to the High Point Furniture Market, lunches and time at the spa and she introduced me to the games of Sequence and Tripoley!!! Barb was such a special person and someone I didn't often see of late, but we could get together and continue as if we'd never been apart. We loved so many of the same things and we could talk incessantly about design, flea markets and log cabins! I will truly miss her and feel so blessed to have had her in my life!

I love you Barb and I will always carry you in my heart! ❤️

“ Barbara fought a long battle and her trust that her future is in God's hands and that she was comfortable with whatever God wants for her showed a braveness and faith that was as strong as that of anyone I have ever known. She and Larry's love for each other was unparalleled. Barbara touched many lives and she will continue to live in the lives of Larry, Jennifer, Gianna and Barbara's many friends.

“ I’ve never met someone who not only had faith but had the strongest faith that the lord would give her 5 more years to spend time with her granddaughter Gia, daughter Jennifer, and best husband Larry and with friends and family. That is inspiring and when Barbara came home last we talked and she said she kind of noticed my voice from somewhere and I told Her I used To hangout with Jen in 99 and im from Northwood and she said wow! Long time. We talked about how kids really are A gift and when your sick, you realize the smallest things we take for granted but the love, support and faith is what everyone needs to keep going and she definitely showed me that. I had Tears pouring down my face as we talked because Barbara never felt bad for herself she was so positive. She gave me advice and I hold on to it everyday- Tiffany, you have to always trust the lord and give your faith and any sickness that comes to him to handle. You like to control everything but that’s what’s going to only prevent you from getting better as I am Proof. I know Your son is the reason you have fought but now it’s time to give Reagan the energy 100% and leave everything in the lords hands. He won’t take You away from Your Son - not now I promise You. And I’m proud to hear you have A 10 year old boy. Kids are A beautiful gift and it’s one thing she said is Jennifer was our only also and I do Love her with all my heart and I wish She really knew I felt That way and I’m A grandmother To A beautiful little girl who is our world- what A gift Jennifer has given us.

Barbara- you are now this beautiful angel that watches over all 3 of them now and your no longer in pain. You have shown so many people what A true FIGHTER is!

You have definitely earned those wings.. god bless
