“ I don't think I will ever have the right words to say how much I miss you grandpa, and how much my heart is broken. I look back now on the vivid memories we had together, going to Ruthy's Park and how you would tell me about the wild boars that lived in the forest behind the playground. You also taught me how to ride the bike— you would remind me to always wear a helmet and to never ride down the hill (it wasn't safe). You were a protector. You also taught me how to swim. These are just a few things I learned from you. I respected and looked up to you as a father figure. There was not a moment where you were not present in my life and I thank God for that. Even though you physically are not here, you will always be a part of my life because of all of the memories I had the opportunity to share with you. I love you, and I know you're looking down at us now, and that gives me peace. 🐘🐘-❤️Lacey

“ I remember when we visited on Sanibel Island, I told Uncle Carl there was a seal in the water. He just chuckled. It turned out to be a coconut.
