“ Carol and Family,

Carol, you know that Dennis and I were very close when young. Lester Jacobs was the third in our triumvirate of friendship. I vividly recall with pleasure my visit to your house in Fairfield in the 80's and when we had dinner in Heidelberg many years later. I'm sad to see Dennis go. He was such a big part of my life in those light years of change and discovery. It's something to lose the repositories of your past and to see how rapidly everything moves. Send me a message if you feel like it. I'm still in Germany. bkerr.kerr@gmail.com

“ I first met Dennis on a golf outing in Myrtle Beach with George Flamman. I was in his foursome and after just that one day we were good friends. A year would go by before we got together again, but we took up right where we left off. Dennis was a true gentleman who loved his golf, good friends and lots of stories. We lost George last year so I am sure that they are together sharing a drink and old times. I lift a glass to you and wish you peace.
