“ He was the big brother of Jack. Jack was my idol then. Little Crow and Big Crow were their nick names.
I thought of them often Just desired to look up their history.
My Idol Jack passed at 29 years old. he was my sister's boyfriend in the early 60's. He was always a family friend year after. He was the image of Cool then. Really Cool!. I miss him
Sincerely, \

“ I lived in Euclid and knew Frankie . We went to Holy Cross school together. We shopped at his parents store all the time. He was a funny kid and made us laugh all the time

“ I had the pleasure to meet Frank 40 years ago. He was friends with my uncle Shag. Fast forward a couple decades, and we met up again through catering jobs that we both worked. It was by far some of the most memorable times, enjoyable and funny as hell. Will never forget the Horsey comment ! R.I.P. Frank ,Ronnie Romanini !
