After the passing of Marilyn in 1987, George reconnected with a fellow Shortridge graduate and married Judith Schroeder in 1992. When George wasn't at the restaurant or at church, he was hosting his famous Sunday family get togethers around his pool in Indianapolis.

George later retired and relocated to Bonita Springs, Florida, where he enjoyed fishing, his boat, and making Syrian meals for his family. While retired, George became a founding member of the St. Paul's Orthodox Church in Naples, Florida.

George was predeceased in death by his parents, Anise and Elizabeth Corey; his first wife, Marilyn Corey; and his sister, Barbara Naiser. He is survived by his wife, Judith Corey; children, George D. Corey, Lora (Carmine) Petrizzo, and Pamela (Daniel) McElroy; step-sons, Chris (Michael) Schroeder and Steve (Edna) Schroeder; seven grandchildren, Corey, Katie, Becky, Megan, Kevin, Darrel and Derek; and great-grandchildren, Cassidy, Bradley, Brayden, Quinn, Daniel, and Elizabeth.
