

Jere Eugene Hyland

January 31, 1943 - October 5, 2022

Jere Eugene Hyland left this earth to be with his Lord and Savior on October 5, 2022. Born January 31, 1943.

He served in the United States Marine Corps achieving the rank of Sergeant before being honorably discharged in 1966. He spent the majority of his career as a business owner and electrical contractor in Southern California as well as Georgia. He was well respected among his colleagues and peers. A devout Christian for most of his life, he loved the Lord and shared the message of the Gospel with everyone in his words and in his endless generosity for his fellow man.

Jere is survived by his wife Dawn; children, Dallas and Tiffany; and grandchildren, Jandie, Kael, Tristan, and Thaddaeus.

He was well known for the often saying, "It's another day in paradise." He would cheerfully say this no matter the circumstances and those who knew him, knew this eternal optimism to be authentic. He truly loved life, his family, and his friends and he never met a stranger. He will be missed greatly but with the assuagement of knowing it is in fact another day in paradise and as he is now there in heaven.

“ I met Jere and Dawn in 1997 in Mario’s restaurant and we became friends right away like we have known each other forever. Later I opened Tuscany in the Cumming area which was close to their lake house. Jere was a wonderful person with the heart of gold, generous, kind and a great friend and we called each other brother. Jere gave his American Express card to my son when he graduated from Marine Corp to buy his dress blue, that was twenty years ago. We lost a wonderful man and I lost my big brother. My heart is bleeding,
He May Rest In Peace, it’s another day in Paradise my brother 🙏
