“ My grandma was the most caring woman I’ve ever met and a true symbol of faith and love, a matriarch of our family. I know she will be dearly missed by all who have had the pleasure of having any interaction with her (ok, maybe not the QVC or HSN customer support team when she had to make a return- but definitely everyone else). She loved the smell of gardenias, the bath and body works scent of Japanese Cherry Blossom, and ALWAYS said that God made her to be a larger woman so that her arms could easily stretch to hug all of her children and granddaughters. I would like to think that God had to make special wings large enough to continue to stretch her arms wide enough to be our guardian angel from heaven. I’m finding peace knowing that the pain and heartache burden has been passed on for all her loved ones to bear now- now she is free and reunited with grandpa.
