“ Kyle was the most amazing person inside and out! He always had us all laughing! You will be truly missed Kyle. Special thoughts and heartfelt prayers are with you and your family during this time of sorrow. What we once enjoyed and deeply loved we can never lose, for all that we love deeply becomes part of us.

“ Almost every day for 2 years I walked into work, sat down at my desk and exchanged a "good morning" with my partner in crime. We usually followed that by diving into some goofy story that always seemed to lighten both of our moods. I still remember being nervous to work with him because I had no idea what kind of person he was or if we would even get along. What I found under that witty, dry sense of humor was an intelligent, creative, caring and thoughtful person who turned into a good friend. A guy who was always willing to help when needed, who had a knack for seeing the lighter side of things and who was never afraid to be himself. I am so sorry that he's gone; sorry that there won't be any more "movie quote only" conversations, funny stories about the crazy things that we would work on throughout the week or discussions about life and finding our way through it. Wherever you are, it's now a better place because you're a part of it. I miss you, buddy.

AN

“ I worked with Kyle at LMHS from the time he started there and he was a key member of our team. He was very smart, creative, funny, personable and committed to doing a good job, going beyond what was required to figure out issues and get us the solutions we needed. He was our "probie" for a long time but he took the abuse in stride (and gave some back) and excelled, and really grew into our go-to guy. It is so hard to believe he won't be with us in the coming days as we push through our projects. He left some really big shoes to fill - not just in the skills and resources he provided but in the way he contributed to the emotional support of team. His absence will be felt for a long time.

“ I went to FMCS with Kyle and am so saddened by this news. I'll always remember Kyle for his witty comments, silly personality and his amazing sense of humor. Kyle, you will be missed.
