“ Several years ago, Lynda and I used to eat next to each other in the Brookdale dining room. We always had a conversation during lunch. She gave me a marker with a rubber tip to use for dialing on my phone. I always carry it with me to use. I remember when she and her Mother used to go to sit on the front porch everyday after lunch, when her Mother was a resident, also. After Lynda left and came back, she seemed different and no longer was active. However, until just recently when she again left, I always spoke with her as she left the dining room, and she always answered by my name. I am so sorry that she's gone. I saw one brother in her apt. earlier, but at the time, I didn't know that she had passed away- so sorry. Sue Theriault-Apt. 233
