“ Condolences to JULIE, whose beloved husband, MARK was so devoted to. And our sympathy to his children & grandkids; He was a devoted father & grandfather that was there whenever you needed him. He worked till his body gave him signals it was time to slow down. Remember all the memories and let them heal your loss so that one day it will be easy to speak of him and the tears will dry . Remember the joy and strength he gave all of you.

“ Mark and Julie are dear friends. Lisa and I spent many hours golfing with them, particularly during reciprocals in the summer. Mark was a caring, compassionate and gentle man who we were lucky to call friend. The last 3 years were very difficult for Mark and Julie. He fought his battle with cancer with all he had and did so without complaining about his situation. We miss him and will always remember him for his friendship. May God rest his soul.
