“ When I first came to Xerox, Pat transitioned into my group and was my first employee building up the Quality Assurance for Service Delivery organization. He definitely had a passion for metrics as well as a good talk. His contributions to my team and Xerox were immeasurable. He will be sorely missed among his peers at Xerox.

On a personal note, I would like to extend my prayers to Pat and his extended family during this time. Losing a loved one is a tough experience to work through. May your spirits be lifted by the memories you have and the stories you learn of how he blessed so many lives.

*Respectfully,
Donna Thomas*

“ Pat and I worked closely together my first eight months at Xerox. He was a big help as I ramped up for my work. We came from the same area in New York and shared memories of our home towns. Pat will be missed.

My condolences and sympathy to his family during this time of loss.

“ I am devastated by this news as I'm sure everyone is. Heaven gained an angel but to us it is a really difficult loss. Pat will be sorely missed by all who had the privilege of sharing life with him. I worked closely with Pat here at DOE for years. He always had a smile. Always threw in the positive side of things. Always the calm voice offering solutions. He was convinced that every problem had a solution and he was going to find it!

As for a favorite memory, it was listening to him talk about his family and friends. He loved his wife dearly and was so proud of each of his children. He would light up when he talked about each of them. One story I remember him talking about is when he took his wife on one of their first dates and walked in to a biker bar to pick up a pizza. He said he thought he could do it quickly and his wife wouldn't pick up on all his ties to the place. Instead Pat walked in and the place lit up - everybody was greeting him in crazy tee shirts and leather :). He said the fact she stayed with him despite her surprise that day just spoke to how wonderful she was.

He led a rich life with special family friends as well. You will be missed by so many Pat. Condolences to the family - you are all in our prayers. Wende
