“ Roy made my mother happy over the past 10 years and he will never be forgotten for doing so. I had the pleasure of spending a week with him last year and he proved to be a kind soul and I shared the love the he had for my mother first hand. May he rest in peace.

So sorry to hear of Roy's passing. I didn't get to know him or Danny as well as I should have. As half brothers we never spent much time together. Short visits when he would visit my dad. RIP Roy!

“ My brother Roy was always a man of honor. He fought in Vietnam and volunteered to go a second time. He was loyal and kind. As kids, I looked up to him, as adults, I admired his steadfastness. He was always ready to lend a hand and quick to lend a gentle word. In life, we have a few people who make a positive, and lasting impact on the people we become, Roy was that for me. While we did not see each other often as adults (we lived on opposite coasts, mine in CA, his in FL) he was always close in my heart. May God rest his gentle soul.
