“Suffering is the most acute trial that faith can face, and the questions it raises are the sharpest, the most insistent, and the most damaging that faith will meet. Can faith bear the pain and still trust God, suspending judgment and resting in the knowledge that God is there, God is good, and God knows best? Or will the pain be so great that only meaning will make it endurable?

But if the Christian’s faith is to be itself and let God be God at such times, it must suspend judgment and say, “Father, I do not understand you, but I trust you.”

“ Dear Harvey family, So very sorry for your tragic loss of your dear daughter.. I remember Shelby in CovFel children's ministry. She was so social, and had so many friends, that she had to do a 360 in her chair to talk to them all! She was a sweet girl who is with Jesus in person now. May the God you taught us all about so well be your comfort at this time..

“ My dear friends, we are heartbroken to report that our beloved daughter, Shelby, passed away this past weekend. So many of you have fought alongside of us in prayer and hope for a different future. It’s simply impossible to find the right words to express our thanks for your unrelenting love and care. It is true we do not comprehend God’s ways in the sudden death of our youngest child. But we trust Him. And we now entrust our daughter to the One who is “merciful and gracious, slow to anger and abounding in steadfast love”. (Ps. 86: 15)

There will be a celebration of God’s grace and Shelby’s life on Saturday, October 9th at 11:00 am at Summit Church (University – 19601 Ben Hill Griffin Parkway) in Fort Myers. Should you care to attend and need hotel reservations, Summit church receives a discount here: Hilton Hotel Link. In lieu of flowers, our family is asking folks to consider a donation to the Gofundme account here, earmarked for the college or vocational training of Jace, Shelby’s one-year old son, now being raised by Dave and Kimm.

Please pray for sustaining grace for our family as we mourn the loss of “Belle”-- beloved daughter, effervescent sister, and hopeful mommy—who no longer struggles within the cracks of a broken world.

Remember when you said that "funerals were not in your job description" after our son died? You were Senior Pastor at Covenant Fellowship outside of Philadelphia and we had been attending your church for about 10 years.
