“ Suzie Norfleet, is how I was introduced to Suzie many years ago at work at Norris Home Furnishings. Always respectful of my time when she would set appointments, her calls always ended with "Thank you dear", or "Thank you sweetie". She always brought clients devoted to her as she was there guide to beautiful homes and relationships.

I know that she never stopped thinking what's best for them, even as she faced her own challenges these past years. I am forever grateful to have worked for her, with her, and her clients that loved her ability to get the job done for them. Suzie left her mark on a time in Sanibel/Ft Myers that no one else can touch. Thank you Suzie Norfleet.

“ Dear Family of Suzi,
Suzi and I go back a long way! Approximately during the late 70's Suzi and I met one another through our work in the design world. We worked together downtown at the old Foxworthy office and went through many changes in that business as it sold and experienced growing pains. At some point the group of us began to head out into the world and all ended up in different places. The one time we could count on bumping into one another was through our continuing education courses and always had at least a few minutes to catch up between class work. As a matter of fact the last time I saw Suzi was at one of those classes and can remember her bright smile warming the room as always. Unfortunately we did not have enough time to catch up and I regret that. There are too many memories to be brief but I remember those days of working together fondly and also remember the time of getting to know Suzi's family. Each member of the family cast a very heart warming, generous and always positive light on everything and everyone they came in contact with. Even though we did not have the time to connect on a frequent basis I will miss knowing that Suzi is in our midst but I know there is another angel in heaven watching over all of us. My sincere condolences go out to all the members of Suzi's family!
With much love,
Lisa Rowe

“ I met Suzie when we bought our home on Sanibel in the late 1970's. When we moved here in 1981 we became friends and co-workers. We worked at the Sanibel store and then I went on to help Suzie a little bit when she opened her own business, Norfleet Interiors.

I can't imagine the world without her. When we remodeled our home a few years ago I always counted on Suzie for her design ideas, and as I look around my home I see her touches everywhere. When I ever had a question about doing something around the house my husband would always say "Call Suzie"...I just cant imagine not being able to do that!!!

My friend, I wish we had had that lunch we emailed about recently, seems like we just never think that time is that short. I will truly miss you.

“ I first met Suzi through Christian Women's Club about a million years ago. As soon as I talked to her I knew she was the perfect decorator to tackle my husband's medical office. She gently, but firmly, took out the old herculon plaid sofas, and replaced them with comfortable camel-backed love seats, beautiful wallpaper that was a copy of something from Versailles, and tasteful prints. She went on to decorate our home, plan our new kitchen remodel, supervise our "flood" recovery at the house last year, and help us build a new medical office building after Hurricane Charley. She was generous with her time and talents. She was a truly caring, funny woman who genuinely loved her husband and daughter and son-in-law....a total class act. She will be missed.

“ *Suzan was very helpful when we moved to Shell Point 10 years ago. She gave us very good advice, was cheerful and fun to work with. She enjoyed having having tea and fruitcake with us on a number of occasions.
We will miss her.*
